I have been associated with Sanghi Consultancy for more than a decade. It's a one stop solution for all kinds of financial matters, be it an investment or an advice. It's keeping me up to date with the events related to financial matter India, even tough I am out of the country for long time. I like the way this team is constantly reminding the importance of planning our future, as we indulge in the day to day activities and forgot about whats coming on our way (long tern ir short term).

I have been associated with Sanghi for close to 10 years now. They certainly have grown in the personalised services that they have been able to provide over the last decade or so. The personalised report they provided recently is one os the most comprehensive and useful I have ever had. It certainly opened my eyes on various aspects of financial planning. Although it is a continous process, this report provided a great start! Thank you Sanghi Consultancy!
